MICROSOFT DYNAMICS AX FOR PHARMA

Columbus IT Italia presents Microsoft Dynamics AX for Pharma, a flexible, simple and integrated ERP solution based on Microsoft Dynamics AX and developed to meet the needs of the pharmaceutical industry. The ERP solution combines tools for supply chain management and reporting with special tools and provides real-time access to strategic information. Microsoft Dynamics AX for Pharma manages formula versions by production site, validity date and batch size, different units of measure (inventory, sales, purchasing and production) etc.. Microsoft Dynamics AX for Pharma also manages production campaigns, cleaning and maintenance activities, packaging, rework orders, batch records, etc. The user interface, based on the concept of role, facilitates to access relevant information for the user. The management and traceability of lots, critical tasks for the pharmaceutical industry, have been simplified by features that allows to define the status of batches, to trace batches of raw materials, semi finished and finished products etc. The management of quality, the heart of the pharmaceutical industry is already largely integrated in Microsoft Dynamics AX for Pharma: non-conformity, quarantine, automatic generation of quality orders, quality control, sampling plans, testing, acceptance criteria, analytical report and certificate of analysis etc.. The electronic signature offers record-level security features and audit trails trace any change. The connectivity components enable to interface with dispensing systems and warehouse management systems already implemented in the companies and allow external systems to communicate directly to Microsoft Dynamics AX for Pharma. The Microsoft Dynamics AX for Pharma has already been installed in over 60 pharmaceutical companies all around the world by Columbus IT. Columbus IT is a Microsoft Gold Certified partners in 31 countries and indirectly in 101 countries, with over 1,200 direct employees, specialists in ERP, to provide excellent consulting services on Microsoft Dynamics products worldwide.
