MARCHESINI GROUP AT “PHARMINTECH 2010”

Cutting edge and innovative solutions created for packaging a wide variety of pharmaceutical products in an attractive stand of 500 square meters. One of the major exhibitors at “Pharmintech 2010” – the third edition of the pharmaceutical packaging trade fair to take place in Bologna on May 12th – 14th (Hall 19 - Stand D63) – will be Marchesini Group, a worldwide leading manufacturer of automatic packaging machines for the pharmaceuticals and cosmetic industries. The Group will showcase its complete lines and stand-alone machines. all with cutting edge features, capable of satisfying all packaging requirements of liquid, solid and cream products.

First and foremost, to prove the Group’s utmost commitment towards the topic of pharmaceutical serialization, there will be a few versions of the labelling machine produced by Neri BL400 Track&Trace; the machine applies and controls track & trace codes of pharmaceutical products and also labels with various code combinations.

There will also be a tube filling line – made up of machine model Millennium 120 with its innovative and easy to disassemble dispensing unit and of the cartoning machine MA155 – and also a vertical intermittent motion cartoning machine MAV50 with dynamic feeding table for packaging cosmetic jars.

As for the solids market, spotlights will be on the tablet tube filler MT1000 that completely changes the filling concept of rigid tubes thanks to its revolutionary filling system.

Among the other machines on show at Marchesini’s stand, worth a mention is the strip packaging machine of solid products model MST200, offering maximum automation of the packaging process thanks to the possibility of automatic coupling to the cartoning machine downstream.
